Christmas Suggestion

To Late Shoppers:-

Any woman would be pleased with furs, a coat, suit, dress or skirt.

Then, too, a georgette waist or dainty undermuslins would serve as an ideal gift.

Silk hosiery, a bath robe, silk kimono or silk skirt also make pleasing gifts.

Our stocks are full and prices are much reduced.

Lieutenant Paul Shepard, former football and basketball star at the University, won his commission at the O. T. C. at Camp Pike and went overseas last June, where he finished the training at the Saumur Artillery School in France. He was then sent to somewhere near Paris. There he was told he was selected to go to England and attend an English-American Tractor School near Bristol and later became an instructor in France. Quoting from a recent letter he says:

"Well you know how this instructor stuff and I stand. I told the major I was not naturally cut out for an instructor and that I wanted to get to the front. Later I received word that I was to be ready to leave for England at any time; so there goes my chances of an assignment at the front."

"I had a leave coming, and where do you think I took that leave? I went to the front and I've had a wonderful time. On account of the restrictions on the American front I thought it best not to go there, but went to the French front instead. I saw and took part in the real thing. The French officers were very nice. They let me see and help in many different batteries, with guns of different size. There is a section of American ambulance drivers up there and they helped me get around. I took a ride with one of them over a road being shelled by the boches, but the Germans were in full retreat, and as we were entering the town of Saine—the infantry had not come up, we were following the cavalry——looking for an advance post, when we ran across a dug-out which we entered and to our surprise found a boche, whom we took prisoner."

"It is interesting to talk to the people in these recaptured towns. The children are very small and thin, and they tell some terrible tales. I got some sugar from the Red Cross and gave it to them. Some had never tasted it. I crossed the Channel on a nice day, spent a day in London, and had a nice trip altogether."

ILLINOIS TO VOTE ON LIQUOR

Two Big Problems Before the State Legislature.

By United Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 21.—When the Illinois General Assembly goes into session here January 8, it will have two big decisions to make.

One will be on the federal prohibition amendment. Illinois "drys" claim to have a sufficient number of votes in both the house and senate to put this amendment over. On the other hand the "wets" make no such admissions. The count will be very close one way or the other. Impartial opinion indicates the measure will be adopted.

The 2d big decision will be as to the manner of electing delegates to and the meeting time of, the constitutional convention.

Illinois' 1st constitutional convention was in 1840 and the second in 1870. Since the latter date there has been no change in the constitution of the state.

The convention resolution was passed by the last general assembly only after prolonged debate, and then by a very close vote. The proposition was adopted by the people at the last general election by an overwhelming majority.

NEED FOR RED CROSS GROWS

Provost Marshal General Crowder Tells of Society's Work.

The argument made by some persons that there is no reason for joining the Red Cross now that the war is over is denied vigorously by Provost Marshal General Crowder. The coming of peace has served to increase rather than diminish the work of the American Red Cross, said General Crowder in a statement issued this week in connection with the Red Cross Christmas membership campaign.

"The need for the Red Cross," said General Crowder, "does not terminate with the cessation of hostilities—rather are its usefulness and its scope increased. With the war at an end, the Red Cross must turn its hand to the rehabilitation of devastated Europe, not only in the late theaters of operation, but in all those fields just delivered from hostile occupation and among all those people who for more than four years have felt the heel of German oppression. To embarrass its activities at this time is to add misery to suffering."

THE BOY IN HIS TEENS—

GIVE HIM A BANK BOOK

Suggest to him, by concrete example, what to do with the dimes and quarters that he is beginning to earn.

You no doubt wish him to be a hustling young man of affairs, self-reliant and prepared for the future.

Successful men are thus developed. They do not step into positions of trust and responsibility. They are trained today, while in knee-breeches—for places of responsibility in Tomorrow's World.

The gift of a bank book, with an initial deposit as a nucleus, this Christmas 1918 will point the way of a life-time.
